WORK EXPERIENCE

03.2017 -
10.2017

Danish Customer Care Specialist
AirHelp

Working in this rapidly developing startup company has taught how to be a part of a complex process and join common efforts in order to achieve greater good. I have learned to work in a team, communicate with various people and gained a lot of knowledge about aviation law.

06.2016 -
09.2016

Researcher
Acdima, Amman, Jordan

During my internship at a bioequivalence laboratory at Acdima, Jordan I was responsible for analyzing samples and finding correlation between the effect of a medicine and human body's response.

06.2014 -
09.2015

English Teacher
King Mongkut's University of Technology, Bangkok

I was hired at one of leading universities in Thailand to teach graduate students technical English. My classes focused on conversations and academic writing.

2013 -
present

Private Danish Teacher
Self-employed

Since 2013 I have been freelancing giving Danish classes. Languages and teaching are my big passions. I am happy to share my knowledge with people as passionate about learning languages as me.
